Location

This lively university city in the south of France, filled with an infectious atmosphere and year-round sunshine, has something to offer all tastes. The beautiful and historic old town has a dedicated pedestrian area filled with trendy shops and open-air cafés. A short walk away is the modern and impressive Antigone area with an Olympic-size swimming pool and stunning architecture. Let's not forget the sandy beaches and warm waters of the Mediterranean accessible by tram. And Paris is only one hour away by plane.

Program

This French language learning holiday offers the perfect mix of French lessons and French culture, including exposure to cuisine, history, art, fashion and cinema. The program comprises 20 lessons and three half-day excursions to surrounding places of interest per week.

Lessons

The objective of this French course in France is to work on practicing language skills in communicative contexts. On the first Monday of the program, you will take both an oral and written placement test to determine which class you will be placed in. If you have no previous experience with the French language, you typically don't have to take this test and will automatically be placed in the beginner class. Classes will take place between 9:00 am and 12:15 pm, Monday to Friday, including a short 15 minute break during which light refreshments will be served. Lessons are 45 minutes in length.

Teachers

Teachers in this French language learning program are native French speakers and are qualified to teach French as a second language. They bring a wealth of experience and enthusiasm to the classroom and design each lesson to focus on speaking and listening skills with appropriate attention paid to reading and writing.

Accommodation

The recommended accommodation for the Montpellier 50 Plus Language Learning Holiday is with local host families. The accommodation officer rigorously selects each family and spends a great deal of time matching the student to the right family, which is why we appreciate as much information as possible from students regarding personality, likes and dislikes, etc. Host families are of all ages and social backgrounds, but they all have one thing in common: their hospitality and friendliness. Depending in the meal option you choose, the host family will provide you with breakfast, lunch and/or dinner.
